We are a licensed investigation company in California with all the instruments that are required to carry out and give a comprehensive report on any of the investigation services we offer in cities around southern California.

Hollywood is an island of itself with a buzz of activities happening on a daily basis, some legal and others illegal. For this reason, there is a need for private investigators to take care of private firms and individual's needs. Let us first understand who a private investigator is.

Contrary to what most people believe, Private detectives or investigators are nothing close to what is portrayed by some movies and novels.

So, who is a private investigator? This term speaks for itself. The most important aspect of private detectives is that they are not affiliated to any law enforcement or government agency. They engage in a variety of investigations which include but not limited to frauds in firms, child custody investigations, surveillance, etc. Their services are rendered to private firms or individuals.

Due to the advances in technology in the 21st century, A&E Detective Group Inc. has put all the measures necessary to stay above the water in this industry by acquiring technology items that make investigations easier and more accurate. We have the advantage of using computers and other computerized gadgets to enhance our investigations. The internet provides a wide avenue to collect information from and thus our private investigators, also known as a PI, are well versed with the street life and are also technology savvy.

Because of the many field involved in the investigation world, our detectives are required to have special skills in selected fields. They need to concentrate on one particular field, perfect their investigation techniques, and provide better and informed services. For instance, if you are to hire a private investigator from us to take care of legal matters in Hollywood; we will assign to you an investigator who is an expert in civil and penal law. You should not worry or look any further; we at A&E Detective Group Inc. have specialized in giving you the services you need, one of them being Civil and Criminal investigations.

Our detectives are committed to giving you the most accurate result within the shortest time possible. We uphold the privacy policy and any information obtained during the period we will be working with our clients will not be used elsewhere apart from where the client wants it. We are committed to shedding light on your suspicion.

Very many years back, it was not so common to have private investigators and detectives. A lot of people had not heard of these investigators neither did they know who they were. Most just went about with their business and in case they had issues; they dealt with them the best way they knew how.

Many folks are intrigued by the industry since they do not quite understand this area and some of us are so naïve to the extent of viewing private investigators as the famous British spy James Bond.

Anyway, due to the progress made by privatization as the years go by and also the quality of private investigators being specialized, their services are more than ever being sought even in Van Nuys.

The need to know the truth and facts is growing day by day plus the general need for peace of mind. Any investigation firm or company now get requests of their services flowing steadily to investigate issues which may include, infidelity, cheating associates, insurance and finance claims, bug sweeps etcetera.

A&E Detective Group Inc. are not only heavily known, but also highly recognized for our efforts in California and other major cities, for our experience, professionalism and expertise. Many investigators have their backgrounds from security institution including the military, police forces government agencies and similar institutions. Therefore they are expertly and extremely well trained, have a wide range of resources, contacts, high end tools and are really focused with all they need to solve investigations at their fingertips.

Truly, A&E Detective Group, Inc. professional private investigators drawn from southern California and other states are experts in the various fields of service, and nowadays usually depended on by a wide range of communities and various sectors in the country and all around the world.

This industry of private investigation has become a very vital aspect in the day to day lives of many people and companies especially bug sweeps and also a large resource. A&E's private investigators have in many cases been congratulated and commended for their outstanding services, methods of surveillance, solid proof and evidence that they have provided.

A lot of private investigators have of late been coming to the aid of various local authorities from Van Nuys Los Angeles and various government agencies in all sorts of matters that may seem sophisticated. These include investigating Criminal and Civil Litigation, matters of immigration, gang crimes, socially neglected behavior, drug smuggling cases, issues of child abuse, matters such as domestic violence and battery and areas of similar concern that private investigators and detectives may be of more help.

When you get suspicious of cheating by your spouse, you are likely to be experiencing a host of very mixed and least understandable emotions. It is always good to compile and gather enough solid proof pertaining to your spouse's extra marital affairs. Hiring a private investigator to offer surveillance that can provide proof to ascertain whether your partner is having an affair or not. Once the detective provides the information you need then you are in a position to choose the direction of your relationship or marriage.

It is sad that the rate of divorced relating to infidelity in marriages continues to increase in the whole country from California even here in Calabasas. When you discover that your partner has been cheating on you can have a very devastating effect on the whole family and be very negative. In most cases, men or women suspecting their loved ones of having extra marital affairs or cheating are more than often correct. There are a couple of signs or pointers that can easily be the indicator of a problem brewing if it is not already there. One, they start having extended office hours and often come home late. Second, there is indifference and a change in their sexual behavior. Third, they spend excessively and the bank activity is far from normal. Fourth there is very suspicious activity on the computer that was otherwise absent. Fifth, there is too much inquiry on your day to day schedule that is more than usual. This is probably to avoid bumping into you. Sixth, they do delay returning your call unlike before. Lastly, they have an email address known to you.

You can hire A&E Detectives from southern California to help you find the truth in Calabasas and help you make an informed decision on your next step. Our detectives are qualified and will gather information that can prove or disprove your suspicions. The private investigator performs a series of services to provide evidence of the affair. As seen in California, the investigator provides information to be used in a divorce court proceedings should it get to that point. In Calabasas, investigating a cheating partner will be handled discretely since it is a very delicate issue. A&E Detectives keep the details confidential all the time since they are highly trained to be discrete and at the same time efficient, thus the cheater never even as a clue they are being trailed.

California Private Investigator

When hiring a private investigator in Tarzana, you have to make sure their firm is registered there, although some states do not require private investigator's license. Therefore, it is better to hire an investigator from California since licenses are required there, and most California private investigators are licensed. When hiring a California private investigator, get the information of their license at the state's licensing bureau via their website bsis.ca. On this site you will get information on A&E Detective Group Inc. and how long our operations have been licensed. The site also tells you if our private investigators have ever been involved in indiscipline cases. A&E has investigators suited for your very need. Say in the case of infidelity in a relationship, we will assign a surveillance specialist. Investigators who specialize in bug sweeps and conduct background checks and investigations are not the ones best suited from investigating your case in Tarzana.

Ensure the company you hire has a biography for relevant information. A lot of firms do not enlist the name of their owner's, or their background but the company's information is always listed. Try as much as you can to get as much information about the investigator as you can to be sure he/she has the qualification to handle your case.

In southern California, our A&E investigators are members of the California Association of Licensed Investigators-CALI- that is the largest and best known association of firm and individual private investigations. It is also to get an investigator who continuously uphold discipline and increase knowledge in the industry. CALI has a program that runs for 24 hours of continual education each two years.

You should ask yourself some questions before you hire a private investigator. One of the most asked questions is "why can I not conduct this investigation myself and maybe save cash?" it is foolish for a client to represent himself/herself so the old saying going. This rule also applies to conducting investigations. Reasons why you should not conduct detective work yourself include being biased on your investigation; lack of objectivity; in case you are required to testify you can't be regarded an independent witness in a Tarzana court. But the aspect you need to consider is you do not have even the slightest training or the expertise to know where to look and what you need to be looking for and how to preserve the evidence you obtain and information gained from the investigation.

If you live in Brent Wood, you might be wondering where you can get private investigation services to take care of a personal matter involving your girlfriend, boyfriend, fiancé, wife or husband. Well there are many ways to approach this, and there is A&E Detective Group Inc.

Infidelity has been on the rise and people often find themselves entangled in affairs that are not straight in terms of being faithful. These are issues we deal with on a daily basis in the society we live in today. Most marriages are broken by infidelity or false accusations. We have trained investigators who will positively prove your suspicion that your husband or wife is cheating on you, or prove you wrong.

What makes the difference in any case is the evidence and the facts available. With spousal surveillance experts, it is easy to trace every step of your cheating husband or cheating wife and present a series of facts that will pin them to the wall. Due to the level of professionalism of our private detectives, we can assure you that the investigation will remain private, and most important of all, your spouse will not know they are under surveillance therefore the investigation will not be jeopardized.

Cheating spouses will always have a plan to keep you from knowing what is going on, our PIs are trained to uncover any hidden plans and expose the cheating spouse and give you evidence the spouse cannot deny. This will assist you in accusing them and leave them defenseless; you can even use the evidence in a divorce court, that is if you want to take matters to extreme. You can confront your spouse thinking that you will win, but without tangible evidence that puts them right at the scene, you have no chance.

Most cheating spouses will defend themselves with anything possible and might even turn the situation against you saying that you are so insecure and you do not trust them. You will therefore be unable to make any accusations. If you want facts, we can help you get them in a professional manner. You will not need to talk when accusing your partner, the results you get from us are enough to convict them.

Whether you know or you are just suspecting that your husband or wife is cheating on you, we can clear or confirm your suspicion within a short period of investigation. We have the experience and based in California, we have extended our services all over southern California with our services only a phone call away.

These private investigators are experts in this area of getting the solid proof that you may need, and maybe you can put the matter to rest and look ahead and avoid living a lie for a life. Sadly, most spouses who suspects infidelity in their relationships, are usually more than often correct.

Before making the choice of hiring a cheating spouse private investigator in Palos Verdes Estates, it is wise to consider the few points highlighted below. Should the point seem noticeable in your relationship then hire A&E detectives to clear the air for you.

All of a sudden, your spouse increasingly spends time from home.

Your spouse's sexual interest towards you significantly decreases.

The suspected cheating partner often seems to be day dreaming and is distracted.

The cheating spouse is time and again unavailable at work or at his/her business.

Your spouse starts attending new business and work related functions out of time and never wants to take you.

Your spouse spends more and more of his/her time alone than they used to before.

Your phone calls, especially mobile call go unanswered and unreturned in time as they used to be before.

When making or answering mobile calls, they have a tendency to leave the room or go out of the house.

Your spouse uses the computer only when alone, and is secretive and when you enter the room, they seem uncomfortable.

The spouse always wanting to know your schedule in and out of Palos Verdes Estates while before that was not a concern.

The mileage on their car is higher than normal yet they claim only to be covering short distances, but cannot explain the raising mileage.

Your spouse's clothes start smelling a cologne or perfume that you are not familiar with.

The laundry of your cheating spouse gets done separately, while before it was not so.

Our experienced cheating spouse investigators having done fantastic work in southern California, will gather the information needed by monitoring the cheating spouse's activities and whom they interact with.

There are very many private investigators but you need someone who will get concrete and substantial information and give you a good report. That is why A&E Detective Group Inc. has reliable private investigator to help you in Palos Verde Estates or anywhere in California.

Child Custody Private investigations in Beverly Hills

Child custody cases remain to be among the most difficult experiences for parents. No one wants to lose the regular contact they are used to with their children. Child custody cases have an ending where the children will be under the custody of the parent who is, or appears to be the most responsible and dependable. The problem with these cases is that they will only use some facts and avoid others, which might lead the children to the undeserving parent.

A&E Detective Group Inc. has investigators trained to handle child custody private investigations and provide facts for the child custody case. When in a child custody case, both parents will be fighting for custody with equal measures and will therefore give facts that favor them by all means. If you are a lawyer in California handling a child custody case, you might want to use our child custody private investigators to separate facts from fiction, or in this case lies.

Beverly Hills is home to many celebrities and as we all know, divorce and separations are the order of the day in such a community. Lawyers in Southern California have to deal with a lot of separations and divorces, which are accompanied by child custody cases. Our skilled investigators will do all the work to shed some light on the case as you sit back and be positive about the case while shifting your attention to the children rather than blaming the other parent.

In most cases, custody will be awarded to you if the other parent has exhibited abuse and neglect when dealing with the child/children. It can be difficult to prove the existence of this unless you are using the help of a private child custody investigator. Our child custody detectives have the necessary means to provide documented evidence that will show signs of abuse and neglect, which will be an important ruling point.

There is nothing as good as knowing that you are on the winning side, we can give you the hope of being with your children if you know you deserve the custody. A&E Detective Group Inc. is determined to give you the results you desire but we are not a fairy tale company, we deal with solid facts supported by evidence that cannot be discarded. If you are going through child custody battle, it is too bad, but you need us to prove that you are a worthy parent.

The very act of keeping an eye on a person's daily activities or watching something is simply known as surveillance. At most times, the government keeps this surveillance over activities or happenings that may seem suspicious in a particular region. Surveillance has helped them stop and prevent serious crimes meanwhile infringe on innocent people's privacy. By using bugs (electronic gadgets and devices), such operations are done without the knowledge of the suspects since they occur from a distance or from close areas where no one can easily notice. There are a wide range of different methods used by Encino private investigators from A&E Detective Group Inc. in locating surveillance and removing bugs and other devices that can be trailing the actions of an individual without their notice. Some of these devices detected include audio surveillance, counter surveillance and electronic surveillance.

It is very likely that in Encino, you might have crossed paths with someone trying to overhear a conversation discretely or a casual dialogue between two people or within a group, knowing he/she is not permitted to do so. This is called audio surveillance where you eavesdrop and overhear people's private conversations and has largely been used in southern California. Audio surveillance is largely used to spy on criminals and their actions, but in the process criminals also have devised their own means to aid them in their crimes, and this is why Los Angeles Private Investigator has done all it can to prevent such occurrences.

There is also electronic surveillance; this is where you use particular technological equipment and devices to eavesdrop on a person and their property and belongings without their knowledge. The most widely used electronic techniques in electronic surveillance are videotaping, recording of audio, and taking of photos, which Encino Private Investigators and our Los Angeles Private Detectives are very familiar with. We take our time to find bugs and other devices in your home that could be used by criminals or any other party that you do not want listening to your conversations or recording videos of you. There are certain rules and different disciplines that need to be adhered to when planning to do away with such devices in particular areas, since they have helped combat theft and rates of crime.

In life, you must have felt as if you are being watched in all your deeds and activities in and around Encino. You may have also wanted to know whether there are devices planted in your house to monitor you. These results to what is known as counter surveillance. Here you present a challenge to anyone who may be trying to spy on you, making his or her efforts very hard. By using bug sweeping methods, our investigators will reduce the risk of someone spying on you greatly.

There are many reasons why people go missing and while some of them can be as a result of kidnapping or abduction, there are some that are deliberate. A lot of people in California lose money when people they have given loans hide and pretend to have gone missing. This happens in many cities and Sharman Oaks is not an exception. What makes the process of finding this missing person is that they have methods of hiding and might even change their identity and looks.

We are a private investigation company registered and licensed to carry out private investigations and our experience makes us the best private investigation company in southern California. Among the many investigation services that we offer, there is skip tracing. Skip tracing involves the process of finding a missing person whether hiding or just missing.

People hide as a result of debts or criminal charges. You might have lent money to a friend and in an effort to avoid paying what they owe you they might hide and disappear. Others might have committed a crime and run away to avoid being arrested and sent to jail. Our services cover all these types of cases and we assure you that we will help you in locating the missing person and do more than just find them.

In addition to locating the missing individual, we will search their bank accounts and assets to find hidden funds and help you in claiming back your money. The fact that these people are hiding from you because of money means that they do this and might be having hidden funds or assets from their acts of avoiding loan repayment. All we require is a few details that will assist our private investigators to search and find the hiding person.

Note that not all skip tracing cases are about debts and criminal actions. There are attorneys and lawyers who use our services in case a real estate heir cannot be found. We also offer search services to adoptive parents when they are trying to find birth parents to the adopted children.

A&E Detective Group Inc. is experienced and has all the resources to conduct a thorough investigation and locate a missing person. If you think an individual or a client is hiding avoiding to pay a loan let us handle this and you will not be disappointed.

Trying to find a missing individual is not an easy task. It is even more difficult when the individual in question does not want you to find them. These people will use all means necessary to hide making the search a hard nut to crack. It is rare that you will find whoever you are looking for if you are an amateur. To increase the chances of finding the individual, you have to use professional services. And by this we mean private investigators.

A&E Detective Group Inc. offers among many other services skip tracing. If you do not understand what skip tracing is, here is a short description. Skip trace, in the world of private investigators, is the process of finding a missing person. It refers to all efforts used in locating individuals who have skipped town. Most people think of bounty hunting or tracing people who have fled bail, when they hear about skip tracing but this is not what it is all about. In a broader perspective, skip tracing involves finding people who have defaulted loans.

Most of the clients that we work for are individuals and businesses looking for debtors avoiding to pay what they owe. Law enforcement can also seek our services with an aim to find witnesses or criminals in criminal actions, or by lawyers in civil action trying to find individuals of interest to a particular case. We also handle cases brought forward by individuals tracing parents who are trying to default child support.

It is important to note that not all skip tracing processes are about debts or criminal matters. We assist estate lawyers to locate heirs to an estate, or adoptees to find birth parents to adopted children.

You can decide to conduct the search on your own but you can be sure that success will not come easy. Skip tracing is a form of art and takes quite a long time of experience to be an expert. We have talented skip tracers working as private investigators in California and southern California. They have many years of experience and can find just about anyone. There are many companies claiming to be able to find anyone but they do not have the mechanisms to make this possible.

A&E Detective Group Inc. was established close to two decades ago and has helped many people in issues concerning private investigations. Let professional who find people for a living handle your skip tracing process.

Infidelity Investigators in Hidden Hills

A&E Detective Group Inc. has highly trained private investigators who have worked in California and use sophisticated methods of gathering proof of infidelity in your relationship which include surveillance. He follows and watches the suspect, and eventually determines if there is any indiscretion occurring. The detective may take photos and videos for proof then files a report of all recorded proceedings and the suspect's whereabouts.

Our investigators from southern California, may also track the vehicle of the cheater for a while following their daily routine to spot anything peculiar so as to determine if there is any truth as to who he spend time with, and also find out who he spends time with. To help the investigation, he monitors the suspect's emails both sent and received and discussions in chat rooms and knows whom they are chatting with. He may also use forensics experts in computers to determine cheating by the spouse. Here the forensic experts recover lost, hidden, or deleted emails or find any new and secret email address that is unknown to you. Investigators may also tap the phones of the suspects, both mobile and house or office phones. He may also extract intercepted text messages which may be incriminating and can be used as evidence in a court of law or while confronting the cheating spouse. It is always easy to catch a cheating spouse since most do not know or realize that they have actually altered their daily routine, the timing and duration of phone calls and conversations to you, or the way they relate to you.

Due to the uniqueness of the individual circumstances, and to assess your situation you will have to speak to our assigned investigators. During investigation, there is gathering pertinent information in case of a divorce and lawsuits for custody of a child. Be aware of all evidence that may beneficial in winning a case.

After the private investigator has gathered enough proof of cheating, it is always wise to be certain if you really want him or her to disclose that information to you. It not easy when you learn that the love of your life has been having extra-marital affair behind your back, or worse still that they are in love with someone else after you have given and dedicated you life to them. However, with the results out you can finally relax and free your thoughts on the way forward whether it will be breaking up or making up your relationship. Therefore it is always smart to make a wise decision and not be hast especially where children are involved. You may also find that your spouse has not been cheating and has actually been tied up by work, or situations have changed in their schedule.

Infidelity Investigations in Toluca Lake

Is your husband cheating on you?

The realization that the man in your life has been unfaithful is truly a very painful and devastating experience. It is more gut wrenching for a majority of women that is you husband not only cheating on you, but has the courage to lie to you straight to your face. But you have very little to go on apart from the feeling in your gut, and that as we all know is not solid proof or a fact.

Women in California were more than frequently correct when they strongly feel or fear that her husband is cheating on her, and another woman is claiming and stealing her spot in the picture. However, she will probably have made a serious mistake if she confronts the husband with only but a few allegations yet she has no evidence that is solid and concrete. A husband who is cheating will find a piece of cake and too easy to deny these “outrageous” allegations, and can simply twist them on his wife saying that she is just being jealous, touchy or paranoid.

So what can a woman residing in Toluca Lake do when all of her gut keeps telling her that her husband is having an affair yet she does not have any proof? At this point, a lot of women in California have turned to us A&E Detective Group Inc. for a private investigator. Our private investigators are available for hire in a majority of cities including south California. More than often you will be asked to have free consultations.

It is true there are a substantial number of methods you can use to collect proof by yourself, and use it to build a case against your husband who is cheating, but using a A&E private investigators is often the best option due to a couple of reasons.

First of all, you have to understand that by trying to keep track and watching how your husband uses his phone and computer, you could be breaking the law. These kinds of technological tools for surveillance may be sold easily over the internet, but it is illegal for an individual such as you to use them to use them for that purpose.

In case you install tracking software on your spouse’s computer in attempting to determine his internet activities, tap his phone and record his conversations, or just physically following him around and taking photos and videos of him with the other woman he has the affair with, you can easily be arrested and thrown in jail.

You have to consider the serious privacy laws and also laws that outlaw stalking that have to be respected and observed, although you are just trying to find the truth about your husband's unfaithfulness. Many people may not be aware of this but breaking these laws is a very serious offence that has very many implications.

That is why it is a good idea to let A&E's experienced be of use to you, as they are well informed and versed on matters pertaining to the laws in Toluca Lake. They are also licensed pros and have the legal authority to trail someone and gather information and facts using methods not allowed to you. If our private investigator collects solid and concrete evidence on an unfaithful husband, the two of you will have a sit-down where he will present the evidence to you. When such a cases sees the inside of a court, evidence gathered by the private investigator is considered since it is gathered by a third party who is impartial.

If you are living in Burbank and are suspicious of your lover, girlfriend, boyfriend or spouse having cheated or is cheating on you, it is always wise to consider hiring a private investigator to look into the matter and give yourself some peace of mind. It is important that you are sure this is the road you want to travel first. A&E Detective Group Inc. private detectives are a great choice if you want to unravel your lover's infidelities. Among the aspects that are most difficult in infidelity is the first time you come across proof and evidence that suggest unfaithfulness making you suspicious of your partner. Over the following weeks you wonder if that is the reality or are you just dreaming and imagining things that can never be. Many clients who come to A&E, as seen in California have said that that they were extremely relieved after they got evidence that was as solid as a rock, but did not know that partly it was the worst part of the proof found by our private investigators and detectives.

You must be very critical in choosing the right private investigators for services in Burbank. Choose a firm that has covered well south California. Do not just open your phonebook and select any private detective randomly without knowledge of his track record, quality of service, experience or background. This may lead to inconclusive, marginal or untrue results which is not the case with A&E Detective's private investigators and detectives.

Some people may consider hiring private investigators who may charge $100- $200 for an hour. Many private detectives might charge a retainer to add on to t at figure. However much or little you pay for the services, it is understandable that you cannot put a price on your peace of mind.

Many disgruntled people even in California want to play the roles of detectives investigating infidelity. First they may hide spy cameras of all sizes, shapes and designs in and around the home. These cameras may be disguised as alarms or clock radios, and their prices range from $100-$300, although those that are night vision enabled are more expensive.

Second they may use Global Position Satellite (GPS) tracking devices. These may be of the same size as a lighter. They are placed in the suspect's car and if one is not keen they will not notice them. Their prices range between $100 &$200. Others use applications used for spying on mobile phones. They tell you of every call coming in and out plus the text messages. Instead of going through the trouble of buying and fixing all these items, come work with A&E Detective Group Inc.

Investigating Infidelity in Marina Del Rey

Do you have doubts on your spouse's faithfulness? Have you ever been involved in little digging, call it detective work? You are likely to have seen the clear tell-tale indications of infidelity. Say strange or weird calls, or calls at odd hours, coming home late from work with no change on their paycheck, sudden change in appearance and strange computer activity. Then you have stumbled on clear signs of infidelity.

These findings may at times be conclusive, or worst still, no tangible evidence and every time you casually raise a question the suspected cheat always seems to have an alibi that is airtight. Even when the lie is not so convincing you still can't manage to know why they are telling lies, but your instinct insists all is not well.

At this point it is wise to hire A&E private investigators that carry experience from California and have covered the whole of southern California. These infidelity investigators will make it their priority to find the misgiving and their accuracy.

There are reasons why you should not do the investigation yourself in Marina Del Rey and let our Los Angeles professionals handle this issue for you. The reasons are indicated below.

Loss of energy. Investigating our spouse for infidelity is extremely rough, but undertaking the job yourself will make it rougher. First because you are not certain of the duration of the whole process. Secondly, you are not sure you will get any rock solid proof. If you strike out a few times then it's most likely you will lose the determination to carry on the investigation further.

Mistakes of beginners. More than probable, keeping tabs on their whereabouts and tracking them will be challenging. Evidence you gather may also not be that vivid and concrete to use in confronting your spouse. There is also the risk of getting caught by the cheating partner, and then the blame shifts to you since at that point, evidence gathered is not tangible.

Not knowing if you really want to know. The answer to this should definitely be yes. However that is not always the case. Most humans will opt to not know and confront the truth and may end up looking the other way, because the truth is often overwhelming to even admit or think about. Although you may have doubts and suspicions, some would rather live not knowing. It is always advisable to take back a few steps and decide whether efforts you've made are half hearted or full bore. This is always a good factor to consider since private investigators at A&E Detectives Group Inc. are not for free. Depending on the duration and circumstances, your budget has to fit.

Investigating Infidelity in Santa Clarita by Private Investigators

Suspecting that your spouse or loved one is cheating on you is very devastating and can affect anyone. You cannot ignore these suspicions since this will only lead you into an unhappy state and always wondering. So, you want to be smart and do the right thing, which is finding the truth on what really is happening in Santa Clarita. The best way to do this is getting someone who expertly does investigations on suspected cheating spouses.

In southern California, such kinds of investigations are carried out daily, but no one really cares about them until the time this kind of situation befalls them. The internet has made cheating easier than it was before. Thus when you have doubts and suspect infidelity in your relationship, it is better to find the underlying cause of the matter. You will need to find a good private investigator such as A&E Detective Group Inc. Here are a few reasons why you need a good investigator to find the truth on your behalf.

The private investigator you hire to do the digging for you always has access to tones of information and databases that would have otherwise been difficult to use. Therefore they are able to learn the truth faster and in little time and report to you because the resources to do so are available.

These private investigators have the knowledge of the best site for dating, personal adverts and many sites usually frequented by cheaters. So, they know stuff that would take you quite some time to figure out yourself. In addition, they can use these databases to find your cheating spouse's email address easily. For you this would have been a mountain to climb.

A lot of people cannot possibly have the time to use trying to find their partners having their extra marital affairs. Therefore, hiring a private investigator to do this work will save you large amounts of time that you obviously do not have.

These are some of the major reasons, among others, why for those in Santa Clarita, it is a good idea to hire a private investigator to investigate your spouse. Whatever route you want A&E Detectives to undertake to catch your spouse cheating, always remember not to ignore it since it cannot go away alone. The truth as experienced in California has first to be revealed before the cheating spouse admits and you decide what to do to them for cheating on you.

Judgment collection in Woodland Hills, California

People are awarded judgment by courts around the world every day but the money is left uncollected because of the difficulties associated with the judgment collection processes. Courts in southern California or anywhere else in this state will not guide you on how to collect your money from the debtor. They will not even tell you how to go about the process and thus will leave you stranded with possibilities of losing your money.

There are many methods you can use to obtain your judgment legally. As a private investigation agency, A&E Detective Group Inc. recommends that you hire professionals to handle this case. The process will cost you some money which will be nothing compared to what you will be reaching for. The professionalism and the short time it will take to complete this process are worth the payment. We have judgment recovery specialists working under our company and assure you that the process will be completed sooner that you can ever imagine.

The only thing you need to do is make sure you have some important information of the debtor and then you can leave everything else to our professional private investigators. The information includes, the name, address, bank account details and social security number. Our private investigators have access to records and database of real property asset and can tell you how much your debtor is worth. They can find assets, which can be auctioned, and your money paid from what will be got from the sale.

This brings us to asset search services. In the process of trying to obtain your judgment, the investigators will have to search the debtor's bank account and any funds and assets that might be hidden. The advantage of using private investigators is that they are licensed and will do all they can to obtain the information they need as long as they remain in the scope of law in Woodland Hills. Collection agencies can send near harassing emails or calls and if the debtor views this as harassment, they can go to court and stop the process.

If you have been awarded judgment by the court and you have no idea where to start in the judgment recovery process, you can contact us and we will give you a hand that you much need. A&E Detective Group Inc. is all about professional work, and professional results is what you will get when you choose to let us handle your judgment collection process.

Civil courts in California and southern California award thousands of dollars to individuals on a daily basis, but at the end of each year, the uncollected amount piles up to billions of dollars. Courts do not enforce civil judgment payments; it is therefore the awarded individual's responsibility to collect the payment from the involved debtor. For most people, this process is rather frustrating, time consuming and difficult.

For the above reasons, most people give up and do not go after their payment. Fortunately, we at A&E Detective Group Inc. believe in justice and are ready and well equipped in assisting you with judgment collection issues. We offer a variety of private investigations and judgment recovery services is one of. We have a team of judgment recovery specialist who will use legal enforcement and everything else at their disposal to recover the judgment owed.

The ultimate goal of our judgment recovery specialist is to collect the owed debt and thus they will use methods such as asset search to determine whether the debtor has collectible assets. Collection agencies might not have access to judgment enforcement measures available to us. For instance, we can garnish the debtor's salary and attach to their bank accounts after unsatisfied judicial judgments. Collection agencies do not have the power to do this and the debtor can stop them from further investigations.

The above reasons leave individual no choice but to work with private investigation agencies. Since we are licensed in this field, we will stop at nothing until we make sure that the monies owed are paid to the deserving individual. Days when people used to give up on their payments after a court ruling are long gone. You do not have to struggle trying to join the pieces, we have the solution to your problems.

The judgment recovery process involves locating the debtor and finding every little detail about their assets and earnings where possible. This allows us to determine whether they are capable of paying the money or not. Our private investigations are accurate and are accompanied by a compilation of facts that will show just how rich the debtor is.

If you have been awarded a certain amount of money by a court in Los Angeles, you are almost giving up on claiming your payment and collection agencies seem to be of no help to your situation, do not worry, you are in our backyard. Give us a call and your problems will be half solved.

Private detective agencies are companies that assist individuals, companies or corporations in verifying any information they are not sure of. We are one of these companies, and the best at that. We help individuals or companies to find out facts about personal or official matters. A&E Detective Group Inc. has been around for close to two decades now and has helped many people in southern California and California at large, Hidden Hills being one of the areas we cover.

People are hungry for money and this has resulted to all kinds of criminal activities, from murders, theft, frauds, and kidnappings, criminals are doing all they can to get extra cash. As the crime rate increases, people are losing trust in the police and other government controlled forces because the same people who commit crimes are sometimes linked to high government officials and thus giving them immunity when it comes to investigations.

We are licensed and registered and therefore can carry out any investigation brought to us. Our private detectives conduct their investigations without fear or favor which is why the end results are always accurate and helpful to our clients.

Private detective companies provide a range of services and we are not left behind. At A&E Detective Group Inc, we have all the areas covered. We provide among many others, child custody investigations, asset search investigations, family law investigations, international investigations and infidelity investigations. We also help companies and corporations in solving frauds that are related to their workers or outsiders.

The reason why you need private investigation services is for certainty. You will need all the accurate facts you can get your hands to make a legitimate and solid accusation. With accurate facts, any case will go smoothly and the criminals will be brought to justice. We are the link between you and these facts, a good reason why you should use our professional private investigation services.

We offer private services and that is what you get. Our private investigators are trained to handle cases professionally and keep all the details private unless you want them public. The results of each investigation are compiled in a comprehensive manner and handed over to you. If you feel like you want an agency other than governmental ones to handle any personal matter, then A&E

Detective Group Inc. is the firm to choose. We give you accurate results and a value for your money.

Private Fraud Investigators in Studio City, California

Just like in any other city, Studio city is home to many firms and corporations. Well, all companies can fall victim to fraud cases and it is important that the management use all means possible to identify the suspect and know how it happened to prevent it in future. Government law enforcers cannot conduct thorough investigations especially in cases where the amount of money involved is not all that large.

This is why you should contact A&E Detective Group Inc. We have trained private investigators who understand fraud and know how to identify the suspect and the means used. We have experience running close to two decades and have provided high quality private investigation services in southern California and the surrounding cities all this while.

Our clients are both small and big companies in the finance or any other field. Some of these frauds are too small to get noticed by the company and this is where private investigators come in. We have a team of specialists who are trained to uncover frauds and help the company in bringing suspect/s to justice. The private eyes, also known as PIs, will investigate cases both large and small cases regardless of the amount of money involved.

In the insurance sector, frauds are the order of the day and that is why we have trained professionals to handle these cases. A fraud is something or a plan intended to deceive; deliberate trickery intended to gain monetary benefits. People use loopholes in companies to trick the system so that they can obtain funds for their own benefits. Private investigators Studio City are aware of these loopholes and can connect all the pieces and uncover the details of a past fraud or one in action.

In the insurance sector some of the incidents that can be classified as frauds include clients claiming more damages in the process of covering deductibles and premiums, individuals who include defective items for more claims, switching of seats after accidents in cases where unlicensed people were driving, tampering of medical records with an aim to extend treatment or access cheap medication which can be sold in the black market, clients pretending to be a hit and run case so that they can submit claims, and clients filing worker's compensation falsely by claiming that an accident that happened elsewhere took place at work.

These are just a few of the fraud cases that our private investigators in California can handle. If you run a company and think that there might be a fraud happening, pick up your phone and call A&E Detective Group Inc. a call and we will send the best to take care of your private matters.

At A&E Detective Group Inc. we offer private infidelity investigation services in Bell having covered California and other parts of the country. Although this job is very tasking, our experienced private detectives do get the task completed. The findings of this job can either solidify or break up a relationship because a lot of emotions are involved. Spouses suspecting infidelity often feel hurt, humiliated, angered, isolated and may be in denial. But pain is the realest and strongest feeling when you suspect your partner is cheating.

After success in southern California, our private investigators focus on locating evidence of cheating by taking photos and recording videos of the suspect in compromising situations. The detectives also use advanced methods that not be disclosed to the general public.

It is normal, however for residents of Bell to not be comfortable with the idea of hiring a private investigator to get extra-marital affair proof on their partners. First, since you love and care for your spouse and may be scared to bring the truth out especially if your fears are confirmed and you find out your partner has been cheating.

Secondly, the shame of friends, relatives, neighbors and workmates knowing you have been cheated on by your partner, but no need to worry since this feeling is normal. Before hiring A&E Detectives, there are factors to be considered. You need to be emotionally ready since the outcome of the investigation may be damning. You may also have to share your partner's sensitive and private information with our private detectives, which most people are not that comfortable with as experienced often in California. Therefore you really have to trust our private investigators and try not to worry. It is vital you talk with our private investigation firm in Bell about the issue of infidelity in your relationship, or go online and look for A&E Detectives Group Inc. on Facebook and MySpace or on private detectives website www.behance.net. The mention of Beverly Hills brings the picture of Hollywood stars and other celebrities in the entertainment industry. It can go without being said that this is one place where private investigations are required most in southern California and California in general. This is because of the many cheating and infidelity cases, and the stalkers that come with the celebrity status. This is why our services are much needed here.

There comes a time when you will want something investigated but in a professional private manner. If this is what you are looking for, the A&E Detective Group Inc. is the agency for you. If you are having problems with a stalker, you suspect your spouse of cheating or you are in search of a missing person, we can make it happen on your behalf. You don't have to sweat a bit, all you have to do is provide the necessary information and the investigation will start immediately. We offer many different investigation services that are carried out by the best in this field.

We have quite a number of professional private investigators working under us and this is the reason why we have grown for the past years to be one of the best private investigation firms around. All the different services we offer have professionals assigned to them and thus you will get the best result if you choose to work with us. Depending on the investigation, the private detectives will make sure that they take the shortest time possible while ensuring that accuracy is upheld and the investigation completed smoothly.

There are a number of reasons why you need a full service Private Investigations Firm in California to work on your case. First, you have no skills to conduct an investigation and thus will probably blow it or not find all the necessary facts. You will waste a lot of time since you are not an expert. The most important reason is that you need to be normal and do what you do on a daily basis so as not to raise any suspicion.

If the suspect was to find out that they have been under surveillance by you, they will change their game and this will make it harder for you to obtain the evidence. With our professional investigators, everything is done professionally with a 100% surety that things will stay private and the suspect will not realize that they are being investigated which will keep them doing what they do in the dark. This is the main point of private investigations.

Surveillance refers to the act of monitoring or observing an individual under suspicion. The person might be a child, wife, husband, boyfriend, girlfriend or an employee. The surveillance process, also referred to as trailing requires a certain level of expertise. A&E Detective Group Inc. has the required professionals to offer these services and if you live in southern California in a city like Granada Hills, you can access our services easily.

Depending on the case at hand, the surveillance might include trailing through vehicles, by foot, bicycle or motorcycle. Advanced surveillance includes mobile phone monitoring through GPS and also via the internet. The most important part of the surveillance by our private investigators is that the person under surveillance will not suspect that they are being trailed. This is because private investigators from A&E Detective Group Inc. understand how important surveillance is and will not do anything to jeopardize the investigations.

Many people may wonder whether surveillance is legal, well, the law does not prohibit surveillance especially from a company registered and licensed to do exactly that. There are no restrictions to public or private observation and thus our private investigators can sit around video record or take photos of the persons under surveillance without committing a crime. We can tell you where the person goes, the people they interact with, and what they do on a daily basis.

The reasons why you should use our services is because to get professional results, you must involve experts in the process of collecting evidence and compiling facts. Our private investigators have resources and skills to follow and monitor actions of the suspect and will give details of their daily activities. Surveillance can be carried out because of suspected frauds, cheating or any other criminal activity.

The surveillance will either confirm your fears or prove you wrong. It is only after our private detectives have given you the end report that you can take action or have peace of mind knowing that your suspicions were wrong. This will save you a confrontation, money and time. If by any chance the persons under surveillance are taking part in criminal activity, then you can move to court with evidence to support your claims.

A&E Detective group is the bridge between your suspicions and the truth if you are looking for the best private detectives in Southern California you are in the right place.

In case you have suspicions about your spouse having extra marital affairs, it is most likely you will want to know the truth. It is always best to find the truth, although this is a tough time for you and emotions of various kinds run through you. In case the truth disapproves your suspicion, keep it till death and appreciate that you have a faithful spouse. However, in case you are right, then confront him/her and find the way forward. Either of the outcomes mentioned above is much better than constant worrying, stress and unending heartbreak for not knowing. Here are tips on hiring an infidelity private investigator if you are in San Fernando Valley.

Get a recommendation. In most cases, you do not want all your family members and friends to find out you want to hire a private investigator. So be sensible and not try getting a recommendation from them. However, you can go online and get accurate recommendation by reading reviews from trusted sources in California. You can visit sites that refer to A&E Detective Group Inc. to help in San Fernando Valley and you will definitely get recommendations from as far as southern California. When you get the info online, be sure to read the methods used and info available pertaining your individual private investigator.

Make some calls. Make a few calls to our firm should you consider us and inquire more on the service and what it involves. Make inquires on the kind of techniques we use to find evidence showing whether the spouse cheats. Do they take pictures and videos, whether they tail the suspect and so on. Ensure you ask about the price charged. Most known private detectives charge flat fees, but some charge an hourly rate. However, using the hourly rate can be expensive since you do not know the duration of the investigator will take to gather proof on whether or not the spouse is cheating. Therefore working o a flat fee is better than the hourly rate, unless money is not an issue to you.

After comparing, decide on the best private investigator for your kind of case, rest assured that A&E investigators have the best PI for you unique situation. It is advisable to meet without investigators regularly for briefing, and use cash as your mode of payment since you do not want your partner finding out you wrote a check to a private investigator. Follow the above steps and our PI in San Fernando Valley, California will end your misery.

Nowadays, a high number of couples have at one point cheated. Those suspecting infidelity may ask for surveillance of their spouses especially video. Although video surveillance is very reliable, there are other methods of determining extra marital affairs one engages in. No married couple enjoys having to hire a total stranger to look into their partner's activities, but at times the signs are too clear to be ignored. Tell-tale signs that suggest a spouse's involvement in infidelity may vary, thus requesting the services of a A&E Detectives in the City of Industry can be beneficial as seen in California. These signs may include the following.

Extended office hours and late coming home.

Mostly, the partner suspected of cheating spends a lot of time from home often at night. The suspect usually comes home later than normal, and at times doesn't come home. It is a sign that is notable but may not be comprehensive on its own to prove infidelity.

Sexual behavior change and indifference.

The cheating spouse loses sexual interest in you, becomes distant, maybe hostile and significantly indifferent.

They change bathing habits and start taking showers immediately they get home, or change their clothes. This, they usually do to conceal evidence such as odor or perfume, and avoid being discovered. They may change affection such as kissing, hugging or even hold your hand, and drastically change their sexual appetite. You should consider the red flag raised.

Unusual banking activities and spending excessively.

The cheating spouse may start spending excessively usually since they are having fun with whoever it is they are cheating with. They go to classy hotels, restaurants and partying. Their credit card charges and ATM withdrawals go unexplained as they are abnormal relating to your spouse. Also huge usage of gas and high mileage on the vehicle could be factors in infidelity.

Scheduling

The cheat develops a tendency of frequently question your whereabouts. This is usually to coordinate their movement and not risk being caught since they are involved elsewhere. These kinds of habits should raise eyebrows.

Suspicious computer activity

A cheating spouse is often secretive. They always delete messages and emails, close running programs and active windows when you walk into the room. They may have recently joined groups, club or organizations that you know nothing of. A&E private investigators from southern California in the City of Industry will trace sent and received emails and analyze the history of the internet in trying to identify your spouse's party.

Our private investigators on gathering this information using various techniques will determine whether or not infidelity is there in the marriage or relationship.

Statistics have it that 3.4 million people fall victims to stalking. Stalking often goes unnoticed or ignored by law enforcers leaving the victims helpless and without a clue on what to do about the harassment. This makes a private investigator a valuable asset in the war against stalkers. Private investigators are trained to assess the situation, gather the necessary evidence that can be used in case of a court case, and also protect a threatened victim.

A&E Detective Group Inc. is a registered and licensed private investigation firm that can assist you if you feel that someone is stalking you. Santa Monica is a busy city in California and having a stalker is nothing out of the ordinary in such a busy place.

A stalker is a stranger who follows you and exhibits a repetitive pattern of threatening or harassing behavior towards you. These patterns might cause alarm due to the safety concern and the fear that the threats might turn into bodily harm and sometimes death.

There are general signs of being stalked as described by our private investigators. These include unwelcomed and unwanted phone calls, unsolicited or harassing emails, being followed by a stranger, being under surveillance by unknown persons, unwanted flowers and gifts, trespassing, spreading false rumors, property damages, threats that include body harm, among many others. These signs can be in low intensity or extremely aggressive. Since stalkers are unpredictable individuals, it is in your best interest to rely on our private detectives for protection purposes.

Courts in Santa Monica will not find most of the above signs as solid enough to charge the stalker.

In most cases, a court will not act until the actual crime is committed. The only way out is the gathering of evidence for a long period of time, and this is where A&E Detective Group Inc. comes in to save the day. We are a full service Private Investigations Firm in southern California dedicated to solve personal issues through professional investigations.

We make sure that we gather all the necessary information and evidence so that when the victim makes a claim the facts provided by the private detects are solid enough to convict the stalker. The private investigator makes sure they identify the stalker because in most cases the victim cannot be able to do that because of fear. They then trace their steps and collect every piece of evidence to show that the suspect is stalking the victim. Stop a stalker, A&E Detective Group Inc. in Santa Monica can help you.

For a country that sees a wide access to workers compensation, it is important for companies in the US to have measures in place to prevent false claims. Workers' compensation refers to the benefits an employee receives in case they fall ill or are involve in an accident while in the line of duty. The law requires that the employee provide such compensation to their employer via a compensation policy provided by insurance carriers.

The process of filing the compensation is quite straight forward and can be done by the employee. However, there are many cases that are not genuine and end up receiving the compensation they do not deserve. Because of this, companies and employers make all necessary arrangements to protect their employees from harm when they are performing their duties. Even with the safety measures, crafty employees still manage to fake accidents or claim that an injury they received at home actually occurred at work.

Because it is sometimes difficult to tell the genuine cases from the fake ones, it is important to put your employees under surveillance to monitor their every step. This will where an employee is and at what time. You can do this by using services from a reputable private investigation service. A&E Detective Group Inc. is such a company. We have enough resources to make it possible to set up a surveillance system that can be used to monitor your employees as they work.

Insurance companies lose a lot of money to false claims and this is one reason why you should ensure that, as an insurance provider in Toluca Lake, your clients are monitoring their employees to avoid false claims. In case someone makes a claim, the system can confirm whether they are telling the truth or just want to benefit from illegitimate claims. Our private investigators can go a step further to investigate medical records to confirm that the employee is actually suffering from the mentioned illness.

We have skilled private investigators that are trained to handle such cases and will sure deliver accurate results and assist you in the efforts to separate genuine cases from frauds. If you think that a claim being made by an employee is a false one and you want it investigated, you need an extra hand from a private investigation agency, you need A&E Detective Group Inc. the best in southern California.
